Dear FCC:

I am writing to complain about the proposed changes to the Universal Service Fund and requesting that the FCC investigate this matter further before changing the current policy. Your proposed $1.00 per month charge for all wireless phones will directly impact my ability to retain my wireless service.

I do not think it is fair to charge EVERYBODY $1.00 dollar regardless of how they use their wireless phone, especially for a low-volume user that relies on wireless service for safety and security, not interstate calls. The current policy is fair, based on interstate usage, and should be left alone. Please do not penalize us. Keep this fair.

I have had my phone for about six months so far and all that I have had to pay was the original cost of the phone and a few air time cards. I have spend a grand total of twenty five minutes on my phone. That is mostly just for calling home from time to time. Being a college student I dont have the money to pay for a regular cell phone and dont wish to get a bill. So if you want to charge more than what is already being charged then you are just screwing me for no reason. Hope you dont have to go as low as charging people more that dont use their phone much at all. You should charge the people that use their phones every single day and multiple times a day.

Thanks for your time

Peter M. Dempsey

Thank you for your prompt attention to this matter. Please provide a written response indicating the status/resolution of this matter.
